

Kickapoo Chief Endowment Fund Wall of Honor Campaign

"For the strength of the tribe is the chief, and the strength of the chief is the tribe."

A History of giving..

In 2005, the Chief Endowment Fund was established by a group of alumni, parents and teachers commemorating the 35th Anniversary of Kickapoo High School. The Chief Fund was designed to provide additional educational resources to Kickapoo students. A percentage of the interest earned from the endowment is distributed to students through a faculty allocations committee from confidential student applications or teacher recommendations. In 3 short years nearly $4,000 has been awarded to students.

giving back... Looking Forward

Since public funds cannot provide for each student's individual educational needs, now is the time to ensure that Chiefs today and tomorrow have the financial resources needed to help them succeed. Funds raised through the Wall of Honor Campaign will be applied to the Chief Endowment Fund. All contributions are 100% tax deductible.

History in the Making

You can be a part of this exciting time in Kickapoo High School's history. By joining the Chief Endowment Fund Wall of Honor Campaign, you will add to the distinguished new entrance and student center. By purchasing a personalized brass plate that will surround a spectacular, custom designed, 16 square foot chief head, you will create a lasting legacy for you and your family or business. You can honor a graduating senior or student, recognize a teacher or coach, or memorialize a loved one. Honor Kickapoo alums or community members, the options are endless!
